Celebrating 92 YEARS of experience and service.

Dear Valued Customers

In 2018, we Mayo Hardware celebrated our ninety-year anniversary of successful trading since our grandfather Cecil Mayo's chance first meeting with the founder of Master Lock recognising the opportunity to market and sell those products in Australia. A lot has changed in that time, the company has grown and evolved to meet the ever-changing needs of the marketplace, but James and I are most proud that the relationship forged those 90 years ago remains true with Mayo's being the exclusive distributor of Master Lock products today!
We remain proud that as we grow, we endeavour to remain consistent with the core values of loyalty, teamwork, and customer service.

As we entered our tenth decade, we are grateful to our existing customers for being part of our journey and thank you for your ongoing support. Your trust in our service and products drives us to continue to innovate and challenge our way of thinking. As we strive to meet your needs, take note of your feedback, and mutually face the demands of an ever-changing business environment. Not only have you made us your supplier of choice you have also engaged with us to continually improve.
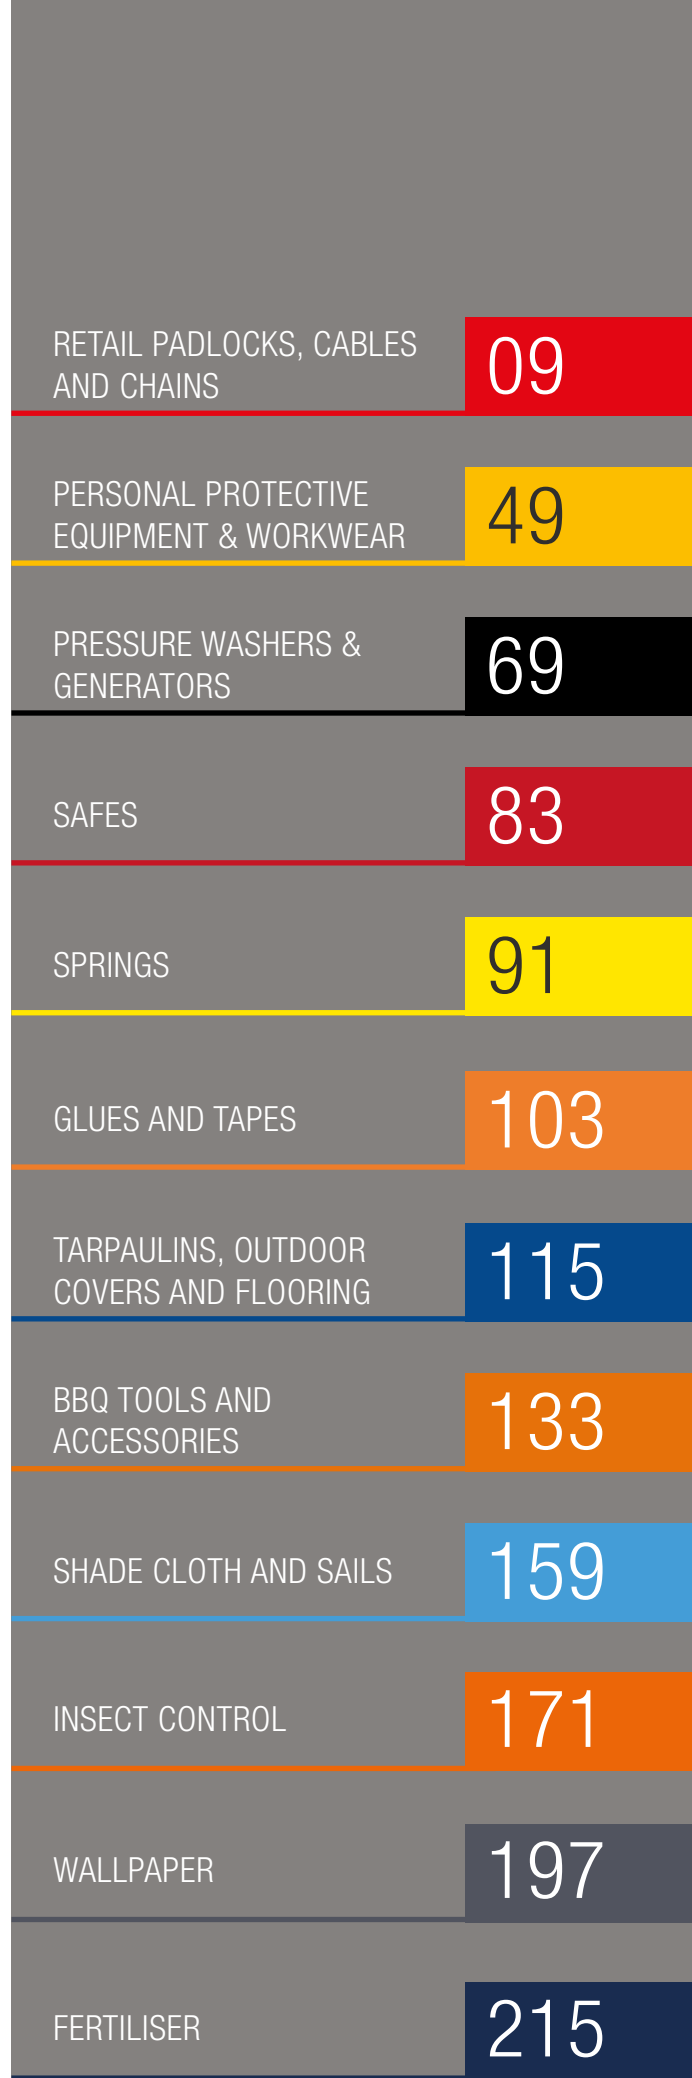

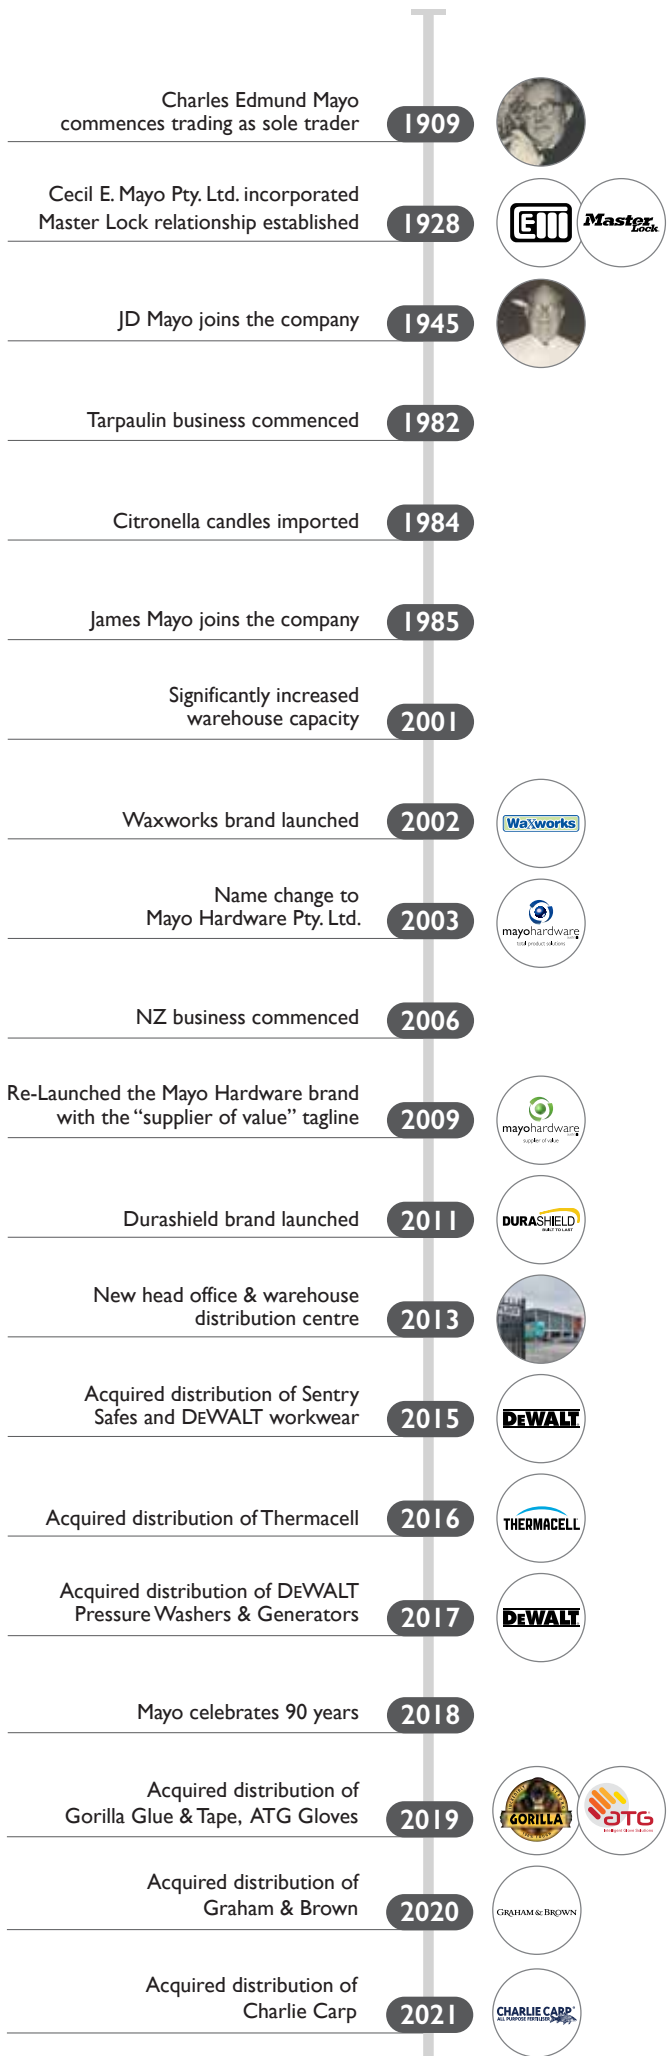

We take this moment to thank you for your support over the years. We plan to keep our business partnerships growing by working together collaboratively. With your support, we can continue to grow our businesses together.

WHAT'S IMPORTANT?

  Selecting the wrong type of PPE can have serious consequences. It is important to consider the velocity, size and the nature of the hazard when evaluating eye/face protection.
- Eyeglasses are not safety glasses unless both the lenses and the frame are in compliance with the specifications for safety eyewear described in the Australian/New Zealand Standard AS/NZS 1337.1:2010.

There are FOUR things you can do to protect your eyes from injury:

- Know the eye safety dangers at your work.

- Use suitable eye protection.
- Keep safety eyewear in good condition and have it replaced if it becomes damaged.

O.D.
Active Coils (na)	Those coils which are free to deflect under load.
Closed ends	Ends of compression springs where pitch of the end coils is reduced so that the end coils touch.
Closed and ground ends	As with closed ends, except that the ends are ground to provide a flat plane.
Close-wound	Coiled with adjacent coils touching.
Coils per Inch	See Pitch.
Deflection (F)	Motion of spring ends or arms under the application or removal of an external load (P).
Elastic Limit	Maximum stress to which a material may be subjected without permanent set.
Endurance Limit	Maximum stress at which any given material will operate indefinitely without failure for a given minimum stress.
Free angle	Angle between the arms of torsion spring when the spring is not loaded.
Free length (L)	The overall length of a spring in the unloaded position.
Helix	The spiral form (open or closed) of compression, extension and torsion springs.
Hooke's Law	Load is proportional to displacement.
Hooks	Open loops or ends of extension springs.
Hydrogen embrittlement	Hydrogen absorbed in electroplating or pickling of carbon steels, tending to make the spring material brittle and susceptible to cracking and failure, particularly under sustained loads.
Hysteresis	The mechanical energy loss that always occurs under cyclic loading and unloading of a spring, proportional to the area between the loading and unloading load-deflection curves within the elastic range of spring.
Initial tension (Pi)	The force that tends to keep the coils of an extension spring closed and which must be overcome before the coils start to open.
Load (P)	The force applied to a spring that causes a deflection (F).
Loops	Coil-like wire shapes at the ends of extension springs that provide for attachment and force application.
Mean coil diameter (D)	Outside spring diameter (O.D.) minus one wire diameter (d).
Open ends, not ground	End of a compression spring with a constant pitch for each coil.
Open ends ground	'Open ends, not ground' followed by an end grinding operation.
Pitch (p)	The distance from center to center of the wire in adjacent active coils (recommended practice is to specify number of active coils rather than pitch).
Rate (R)	Change in load per unit deflection, generally given in lb/in., or N/mm.
Slenderness ratio	Ratio of spring length (L) to mean coil diameter (D).
Solid height (H)	Length of a compression spring when under sufficient load to bring all coils into contact with adjacent coils.
Spring index	Ratio of mean coil diameter (D) to wire diameter (d).
Stress range	The difference in operating stresses at minimum and maximum loads.
Stress relieve	To subject springs to low-temperature heat treatment so as to relieve residual stresses.
Torque (M)	A twisting action in torsion springs which tends to produce rotation, equal to the load multiplied by the distance (or moment arm) from the load to the axis of the spring body. Usually expressed in oz./in., lb./in., lb./ft., or in N/mm.
Total number of coils (Nt)	Number of active coils (Na) plus the coils forming the ends.

CITRONELLA - NATURE'S NATURAL WEAPON

Essential citronella oil is the active natural ingredient in all Waxworks candles, oils, incense sticks and coils.

Citronella oil is a naturally occurring repellent derived from citronella grass. Unlike the potent smell associated with traditional roll-on and aerosol repellents, citronella has a citrus-like aroma and is non-toxic.

It works by blocking the scent receptors of mosquitoes, masking the carbon dioxide, body odour and body temperature that attracts them to people.

MOSQUITOES – KNOW YOUR ENEMY

- Mozzies are attracted to humans by the carbon dioxide in our breath, our body odour and temperature.

- Sensitivity to mosquito bites varies depending on the person. Most people have the common, mild reaction of swelling, redness, itchy skin and irritation at the puncture site. However, some people will have severe allergic symptoms from the saliva of mosquitoes and if bites are scratched they may become infected with bacteria.

- Generally, mosquitoes are most active at dusk. However, in areas where mosquito populations are high they may bite at all times of the day.

- It's the female which sucks human and animal blood. Blood is the protein they're seeking to develop little baby eggs. The male is all about peace, love and plant nectar.

- On average, a female mozzie lifespan is around 45 - 65 days. The male usually lives for around 10 days only.

NATURAL INSECT CONTROL

NATURAL INSECT CONTROL

CREATE A MOZZIE FREE ZONE

Waxworks citronella products are most effective when used to reduce the mosquitoes' ability to bite us, creating a protective "mozzie-free" zone around your outdoor entertaining area.

Here are some tips on how to improve the effectiveness of your Waxworks products.

- Waxworks candles should be placed close to where you are sitting to be most effective. Placing multiple candles also increases the effectiveness.
- Aim to position Waxworks products around walls or outdoor furniture approximately 1 metre distance from each product, creating the "mozzie-free" zone. The protective barrier created by the citronella scent of Waxworks products will deter mosquitoes from entering the area you want to protect.
- Waxworks citronella products can also be placed under outdoor tables to provide heavy duty protection to a small area. Be careful not to knock these over with your feet.
- On windy days, the scent is more likely to be blown away and disperse quicker. Improve effectiveness by positioning in areas where the wind is minimal and allow less distance between each product.
- To prevent an excessively large flame and minimise smoke, allow your candle to burn for 2-3 hours, then extinguish and allow to cool. Trim the wick to 6mm and relight.
- As a good safety practice, discontinue use when wax reaches 1cm from the base.
- Never leave burning items unattended or unsupervised at any time.
- Waxworks products are produced with premium Citronella essential oil, effective in repelling mosquitoes, blocking their scent receptors – not killing them.

HOWEVER, if you want to kill mosquitoes we recommend:

Citronella Oil with Bifenthrin, see page 182 (for use with Waxworks garden torches and table top burners).
In addition to citronella oil, this product contains Bifenthrin to kill mosquitoes fast.
